

Ocado Retail
Recruitment Privacy Notice

INTRODUCTION

This privacy notice explains what personal data (information) we will hold about you, how we collect it, how we will use and may share information about you during the application process and when you visit our website, and your rights in relation to your personal information. We are required to notify you of this information, under data protection legislation. Please ensure that you read this privacy notice and any other similar notice or policy we may provide to you from time to time when we collect or process personal information about you.

This notice applies to the recruitment activities of all companies owned directly or indirectly by Ocado Retail Limited, including where relevant, internal recruitment activities. Currently, this includes Ocado Retail Limited only and references to 'we', 'us' and 'our' in this privacy notice are references to Ocado Retail Limited.

Data Protection Officer

We have appointed a data protection officer (DPO) to oversee compliance with this privacy notice. If you have any questions about this privacy notice or how we handle your personal information or you would like to contact us, please contact the DPO. You have the right to make a complaint at any time to the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO), the UK supervisory authority for data protection issues or your local supervisory authority for data protection issues (contact details below).

Contact details of the DPO

Email: privacy@ocadoetail.com

Contact telephone number: +44 (0)1707 227 800

Postal address: Data Protection Officer, Ocado Retail, Apollo Court, 2 Bishop Square, Hatfield Business Park, Hatfield, Herts, AL10 9EX.

Who collects the information

Ocado Retail Limited is the 'data controller' and gathers, shares and uses certain information about you in line with this recruitment privacy notice. A data controller is the entity which determines the purposes for which and the manner in which your personal data is processed.

Data protection principles

We will comply with data protection law and principles, which means that your data will be:

- Used lawfully, fairly and in a transparent way.
- Collected only for valid purposes that we have clearly explained to you and not used in any way that is incompatible with those purposes.
- Relevant to the purposes we have told you about and limited only to those purposes.
- Accurate and kept up to date.
- Kept only as long as necessary for the purposes we have told you about.
- Kept securely.

About the personal information we collect and process

The table set out in Part A of the Schedule below summarises the information we collect and hold up to and including the shortlisting stage of the recruitment process, how and why we do so, how we use it and with whom it may be shared.

The table in Part B of the Schedule below summarises the additional information we collect before making a final decision to recruit i.e. before making an offer of employment unconditional, how and why we do so, how we use it and with whom it may be shared.

We also use cookies and similar technologies in relation to our online recruitment activities and you should refer to our Privacy & Cookie Policy for further information which is available on our website, www.ocadoretail.com.

We seek to ensure that our information collection and processing is always proportionate. We will notify you of any changes to information we collect or to the purposes for which we collect and process it.

Where information may be held

Information may be held at our offices and those of third party agencies, service providers, representatives and agents. Information may be transferred internationally to countries in the EU, the USA, Canada and other countries around the world, including countries that do not have data protection laws equivalent to those in the UK for the reasons described above. We have security measures in place to seek to ensure that there is appropriate security for information we transfer outside the European Economic Area (EEA). This involves us using one or more of the following transfer mechanisms:

- The use of European Commission-approved standard contractual clauses in contracts for the transfer of personal data to third countries.
- The transfer to organisations that are part of the EU-US Privacy Shield. This is a framework that sets privacy standards for data sent between the US and EU countries. It makes sure those standards are similar to what is used within the EEA.
- Transfers to a non-EEA country with privacy laws that give the same protection as the EEA.

You can find out more about the above data protection safeguards on the European Commission Justice website.

For more information on how we safeguard transfers of your personal information, please contact us at privacy@ocadoetail.com.

Automated decision-making

You will not be subject to decisions that will have a significant impact on you based solely on automated decision-making, save for the exemptions to this rule i.e. if automated decision-making is required or authorised by law or is necessary for entering into or performing the contract or is based on your individual explicit written consent.

If you fail to provide personal information

If you fail to provide information when requested, which is necessary for us to consider your application (such as evidence of qualifications or work history), we will not be able to process your application successfully. For example, if we require references for this role and you fail to provide us with relevant details, we will not be able to take your application further.

How long we keep your information

We will normally retain your personal information for a period of six months after we have communicated to you our decision about whether to appoint you to the role. We retain your personal information for that period so that we can show, in the event of a legal claim, that we have not discriminated against candidates on prohibited grounds and that we have conducted the recruitment exercise in a fair and transparent way. After this period, we will securely destroy your personal information in accordance with our applicable data retention policy.

If we wish to retain your personal information on file, on the basis that a further opportunity may arise in future and we may wish to consider you for that, we will write to you separately, seeking your explicit consent to retain your personal information for a fixed period, usually two years, on that basis.

Your rights in connection with personal information

Under certain circumstances, by law you have the right to:

- Request access to your personal information (commonly known as a “data subject access request”). This enables you to receive a copy of the personal information we hold about you and to check that we are lawfully processing it.
- Request correction of the personal information that we hold about you. This enables you to have any incomplete or inaccurate information we hold about you corrected.
- Request erasure of your personal information. This enables you to ask us to delete or remove personal information where there is no good reason for us continuing to process it. You also have the right to ask us to delete or remove your personal information where you have exercised your right to object to processing (see below). Please note that this is not an absolute right and that we will be able to retain certain information where we have a legitimate interest to do so.
- Object to processing of your personal information where we are relying on a legitimate interest (or those of a third party) and there is something about your particular situation which makes you want to object to processing on this ground.
- Request the restriction of processing of your personal information. This enables you to ask us to suspend the processing of personal information about you, for example if you want us to establish its accuracy or the reason for processing it.
- Request the transfer of your personal information to another party.
- Withdraw your consent for processing of your personal information (where your consent is required) at any time. However, if you withdraw your consent, this will not affect the lawfulness of any processing of your personal information carried out prior to the withdrawal of your consent.

If you want to review, verify, correct or request erasure of your personal information, object to the processing of your personal data, or request that we transfer a copy of your personal information to another party, please contact the DPO in writing. We may need to request specific information from you to help us confirm your identity and ensure your right to access the information (or to exercise any of your other rights). This is an appropriate security measure to ensure that personal information is not disclosed to any person who has no right to receive it.

Keeping your personal information secure

We have appropriate security measures in place to prevent personal information from being accidentally lost, or used or accessed in an unauthorised way. We limit access to your personal information to those who have a genuine business need to know it. Those processing your information will do so only in an authorised manner and are subject to a duty of confidentiality.

We also have procedures in place to deal with any suspected data security breach. We will notify you and any applicable regulator of a suspected data security breach where we are legally required to do so.

Sharing your personal information with third parties

We will only share your personal information with third parties for the purposes of:

- a) processing your application and to enable appropriate checks and aptitude tests to be carried out. For example, we work with Experian to help us carry out criminal record checks (only where this is legally permitted), third party HR software providers for recruitment and applicant tracking, and the Driving and Vehicle Licensing Authority (DVLA) to conduct driving licence checks. We also used third-party service providers, such as IT system and technology application providers, to process and store your personal information and this may involve or include processing of your information by entities owned directly or indirectly by Ocado Group plc (a separate group of companies to Ocado Retail Limited and its subsidiaries); and
- b) in line with our Privacy & Cookie Policy (which is available on our website, www.ocadoretail.com), to help us monitor website performance, utilisation of features and services, traffic and demographic trends, and browser versions, to improve our website and services and tailor them to your interests.

Our third-party service providers are required to take appropriate security measures to protect your personal information in line with our policies. We do not allow our third-party service providers to use your personal data for their own purposes. We only permit them to process your personal data for specified purposes and in accordance with our instructions.

How to complain

We hope that our Data Protection Officer can resolve any query or concern you raise about our use of your information.

However, for further information about your rights and how to make a formal complaint, in the UK in the first instance, please contact the Information Commissioner (as this is Ocado Retail's national data protection authority) at <https://ico.org.uk/concerns/> or telephone: (+44) 0303 123 1113.
